

Question 4

Deadlock occurs in the following scenario: when the sender receives a corrupted ACK, it keeps sending the old data packet. However, the receiver is waiting for the new data packet, as illustrated below:

